“BE A JUNK TECHY ”

Observe the waste dumped in the trash bins at your home for a few days. RECOVER things like used glasses, plastic bottles, shoe boxes, cardboard cartons, old clothes RECREATE utility items like luminaries, vase, doll house, bags etc from them to REUSE it in your daily routine. Bring this piece of your imagination to school to be showcased to your friends in the class.

2 YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE! Imagine a world where everyone helped each other, how nice would that be? You can get it started by doing one good deed a DAY! Whether it's doing something for your parents, grandparents or neighbours or friends. There are lots of ways to good deeds. You can simply help your mom with chores, clean your cupboard and pass on toys to others to play with, offer someone a glass of water in this scorching heatactually the list is endless. You can make someone's day by doing it. 1. Write down your act that brought a smile on someone's face on a daily basis on strips of paper. Fold each paper in half and place it in a jar/box. 2. Don't forget to bring this jar/box to school after vacation to share your good deed adventures with your friends.

3 NOW AND THEN Talk to your parents, aunts, uncles and all the other grownups who knew you when you were 4 years old. Find out about yourself at that time. There are so many things you did then and now you cannot do them. Think of 10 things you can do now but you could not do them when you were 4 years old. To make your composition interesting you may draw pictures too. To make it more attractive.

4 Prepare a list of questions you could ask your grandparents to know them better. Interview them and write their answers.

5 KAHANI MAIN TWIST Read panchatantra stories in English. Twist the story with your imagination and give it a different climax. Write the original and the new story.....in separate self created story books. You can make pictures too to make the story books attractive.

6 Learn to spell the names of 20 characters from the programmes you watch on television during the break.
