3. The total number of ministers, including the Chief Minister, in the Council of Ministers in a state shall not exceed 15% of the total strength of the legislative Assembly of that state. But, the number of ministers, including the Chief Minister, in a state shall not be less than 12 (Article 164(1A)).
4. A member of either House of a state legislature belonging to any political party who is disqualified on the ground of defection shall also be disqualified to be appointed as a minister (Article 164(1B)).
5. A member of either House of Parliament or either House of a State Legislature belonging to any political party who is disqualified on the ground of defection shall also be disqualified to hold any remunerative political post. The expression "remunerative political post" means (i) any office under the central government or a state government where the salary or remuneration for such office is paid out of the public revenue of the concerned government; or (ii) any office under a body, whether incorporated or not, which is wholly or partially owned by the central government or a state government and the salary or remuneration for such office is paid by such body, except where such salary or remuneration paid is compensatory in nature (Article 361-B).
6. The provision of the Tenth Schedule (anti-defection law) pertaining to exemption from disqualification in case of split by one-third members of legislature party has been deleted. It means that the defectors have no more protection on grounds of splits.

Ninety-Second Amendment Act, 2003	Included four more languages in the Eighth Schedule. They are Bodo, Dogri (dongri), Mathilli (Maithili) and Santhali. With this, total number of constitutionally recognized languages increased to 22.
Ninety-Third Amendment Act, 2005	Empowered the state to make special provisions for the socially and educationally backward classes or the Scheduled Castes or the Scheduled Tribes in educational institutions including private educational institutions (whether aided or unaided by the state), except the minority educational institutions (clause (5) in Article 15). This Amendment was enacted to nullify the Supreme Court judgement in the Inamdar case (2005) where the apex court ruled that the state cannot impose its reservation policy on minority and non-minority unaided private colleges, including professional colleges. The court declared that reservation in private, unaided educational institutions was unconstitutional.
Ninety-Fourth Amendment Act, 2006	Freed Bihar from the obligation of having a tribal welfare minister and extended the same provision to Jharkhand and Chattisgarh. This provision will now be applicable to the two newly formed states and Madhya Pradesh and Orissa. Where it has already been in force (Article 164(1)).
Ninety-Fifth Amendment	(Amend article 334) to extend the reservation of seats for SCs and STs in the Lok Sabha and states assemblies from Sixty years to Seventy years.
Ninety-Sixth Amendment	(Amend schedule 8) Substituted "Odia" for Oriya"
Ninety-Seven Amendment	(Amend Art 19 and added Part IXB) Added the words "or co-operated societies" after the word "or unions" in Articles 19(I) (c) and insertion of article 438 i.e., Promotion of Co-operative Societies and added Part-IXB i.e., The co-operative Societies. The amendment objectives is to encourage economic activities of cooperative which in turn help progress of rural India. It is expected to not only ensure autonomous and democratic functioning of cooperatives. but also the accountability of the management to the members and other stakeholders.
Ninety-Eight Amendment	(To insert article 371 J in the Constitution) To empower the Governor of Karnataka to take steps to develop the Hyderabad-Karnataka Region
