English Reader Cum Activity Book

(REVISED)

SECOND LANGUAGE

THIRD STANDARD

Karnataka Textbook Society (R.)

100 Feet Ring Road,
Banashankari 3rd Stage, Bengaluru - 85

PREFACE

The Textbook Society, Karnataka has been engaged in producing new textbooks for Standards I to X since 2010. These books have been prepared according to the new syllabi which in turn are designed on NCF – 2005 and KCF 2007, Textbooks are prepared in 12 languages, and seven media.

In view of the low standard of attainment of Kannada Medium students in English, the Government of Karnataka introduced English from Standard I in the year 2007. A series of books were prepared and they have been in use ever since. With the introduction of the new textbooks in all subjects. The Government decided to replace these books and the new books prepared now satisfy the redefined objectives of NCF 2005. The new objectives are -

- connecting knowledge to life activities
- learning to shift from rote methods
- enriching the curriculum beyond textbooks
- providing learning experiences for the construction of knowledge by learners
- making education relevant to the present and future needs.

The new book for Standard I to 4 is called English Reader - cum - Activity book. Children learn spoken English through activities relating to their immediate environment and personal experiences. The book is full of attractive pictures in colours. These pictures represent objects which the learners encounter in their life. Learners begin learning English by naming objects and then use them in sentences. In the early stages, a lot of importance is given to fluent communication in the spoken form.

The emphasis gradually shifts to learners using language to express their needs, feelings and emotions in the simplest possible form. Then come simple stories which they listen to and enjoy.

Then they begin to read pictures, words and simple sentences off the black board and from the Textbook. The learners are slowly introduced to writing the letters of the English alphabet. This process continues in standard II and by the end of the second year it is hoped that learners should be able to read and write the letters of English alphabet, simple words and short sentences in English.

There is not going to be the Teacher's Source Book as we used to have for the earlier package of Practice Books. All the materials and instructions are given in the Textbook itself.

In the books for classes I and II a number of rhymes are included to help learners master the rhythm of the language. The rhymes are very simple and children enjoy saying these rhymes after the teacher.

Listening to stories begin half way through the first year and continues throughout the course (four years). In class I the teachers may use a bit of the learner's mother tongue and reduce the use of it gradually. Let the children use English. Do not insist on grammatical accuracy to begin with. Let the learners feel confident that they can speak English like any others.

The Textbook Society expresses grateful thanks to the chairpersons, writers and scrutinizers for their sincere efforts in preparing the books and making them interesting.

A WORD WITH THE TEACHER

The 'English Reader cum Activity Book' is a completely new book. The book is based on ten different topics some of which have already been introduced in earlier classes i.e. classes I and II. In such cases (e.g. Parts of the Body, Plants and Trees), new words have been introduced and higher level activities have been designed for Class 3 learners. Also, in Class-3, some new topics have been discussed. For example, topics such as 'Celebrations', 'Let's Count', 'Keep Fit' and 'Have Fun' are newly introduced.

The major focus in this book is on developing the topic knowledge and the vocabulary of children in English. This is in tune with the principles of NCF 2005 which advocates constructivist pedagogy in the classrooms. In this book, children are encouraged to construct knowledge about different topics that are relevant to the world they live in. The book provides an exposure to different aspects of English language such as words and phrases, spellings, pronunciation, handwriting practice, etc. It also provides them opportunities to listen to English and to read different passages in English. In addition, children get opportunities to use language i.e. to speak and write in English.

Each Unit of the book has the following components:

1. A rhyme to listen to and recite
2. A short dialogue to practice
3. Activities for vocabulary development
4. Activities for learning spelling and pronunciation
5. Handwriting practice exercises
6. Short texts for reading and simple writing tasks
7. Proverbs related to the topics

In addition to these, a few stories have been given at the end of the book. As a teacher you are expected to narrate these stories in the class and develop the listening skills of the students. Interesting activities for drawing and colouring have also been included in the book. Each Unit ends with 'My Progress' where students evaluate the learning outcomes they have achieved.

We sincerely hope that children will make the best use of this book to enhance their English language skills.

About the Revision of Textbooks

Honourable Chief Minister Sri Siddaramaiah who is also the Finance Minister of Karnataka, in his response to the public opinion about the new textbooks from standard I to X, announced, in his 2014-15 budget speech of constituting an expert-committee, to look into the matter. He also spoke of the basic expectations there in, which the textbook experts should follow: “The textbooks should aim at inculcating social equality, moral values, development of personality, scientific temper, critical acumen, secularism and the sense of national commitment”, he said.

Later, for the revision of the textbooks from class I to X, the Department of Education constituted twenty seven committees and passed an order on 24-11-2014. The committees so constituted were subject and class-wise and were in accordance with the standards prescribed. Teachers who are experts in matters of subjects and syllabi were in the committees.

There were already many complaints and analyses about the textbooks. So, a freehand was given in the order dated 24-11-2014 to the responsible committees to examine and review text and even to prepare new text and revise if necessary. Eventually, a new order was passed on 19-9-2015 which also gave freedom even to re-write the textbooks if necessary. In the same order, it was said that the completely revised textbooks could be put to force from 2017-18 instead of 2016-17.

Many self inspired individuals and institutions, listing out the wrong information and mistakes there in the text, had sent them to the Education Minister and to the Textbook Society. They were rectified. Before rectification we had exchanged ideas by arranging debates. Discussions had taken place with Primary and Secondary Education Teachers' Associations. Questionnaires were administered among teachers to pool up opinions. Separate meetings were held with teachers, subject inspectors and DIET Principals. Analytical opinions had been collected. To the subject experts of science, social science, mathematics and languages, textbooks were sent in advance and later meetings were held for discussions. Women associations and science related organisations were also invited for discussions. Thus, on the basis of inputs received from various sources, the textbooks have been revised where ever necessary.

Another important aspect has to be shared here. We constituted three expert committees. They were constituted to make suggestions after making a comparative study of the texts of science, mathematics and social science subjects of central schools (NCERT), along with state textbooks. Thus, the state text books have been enriched based on the comparative analysis and suggestions made by the experts. The state textbooks have been guarded not to go lower in standards than the textbooks of central schools. Besides, these textbooks have been examined along side with the textbooks of Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra states.

Another clarification has to be given here. Whatever we have done in the committees is only revision, it is not the total preparation of the textbooks. Therefore, the structure of the already prepared textbooks have in no way been affected or distorted. They have only been revised in the background of gender equality, regional representation, national integrity, equality and social harmony.

While doing so, the curriculum frames of both central and state have not been transgressed. Besides, the aspirations of the constitution are incorporated carefully. Further, the reviews of the committees were once given to higher expert committees for examination and their opinions have been inculcated into the textbooks.

Finally, we express our grateful thanks to those who strived in all those 27 committees with complete dedication and also to those who served in higher committees. At the same time, we thank all the supervising officers of the Textbook Society, who sincerely worked hard in forming the committees and managed to see the task reach its logical completion. We thank all the members of the staff who co-operated in this venture. Our thanks are also to the subject experts and to the associations who gave valuable suggestions.

4. Now let's read and understand the lesson on 'Children's Day Celebration'.

Children are the best gifts of God to the parents.

Children's day in India is celebrated on November 14th every year. November 14th is the birthday of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. As a tribute to Jawaharlal Nehru and his love for children, his birthday is celebrated all over India as children's day.

Children affectionately called Jawaharlal Nehru 'Chacha Nehru' or 'Chachaji' because he was fond of both children and roses. He said that children are like the buds in a garden.

They should be carefully nurtured. Children are the future of the nation and the citizens of tomorrow. He felt that children are the real strength of a country. On children's day schools have cultural programmes, games and these are managed by students themselves.

Teachers perform various cultural activities for their beloved students.

8. Read and understand the story.

Deepu was a poor stone-cutter. It was very hot and Deepu did not feel like working. So he put his hammer down and said :

Suddenly, an angel came down from heaven.

And Deepu became rich. He ate and drank all day.

One day he saw a king.

Money isn't enough. I want to be a king.

The angel came again and made him a king.

Now everybody in the village bowed to him. Deepu was happy.

One day he was going around his kingdom.
The hot sun burnt him. Suddenly Deepu shouted...

The angel came again and turned Deepu into the sun. Deepu burnt everything. He was happy.

But after some days, he saw a cloud below him. It was a strong cloud. Now the sun could not reach the earth anymore. And of course Deepu wanted to be a cloud.

The angel came again and turned Deepu into a cloud. The cloud rained everyday. The rain water fell on a rock but the rock did not move. Deepu as a cloud saw this and shouted :

The angel came down and turned Deepu into a rock. The rock did not move when it rained.

One day, a man with a pick-axe came and saw the rock.

Suddenly Deepu shouted:

The angel came down for the last time and said:

Finally, Deepu was a stonecutter again. He was poor but he was happy.

Stories for listening

The Apple Tree

There was once an old apple tree in a farmer's garden. It could not bear fruit anymore. But a large number of sparrows, grasshoppers, squirrels and other small birds and insects lived in the tree.

One day, the farmer decided to cut down the tree. "It has become useless," he said to himself. "But its wood is still strong. I can make some tables and chairs with the wood." He took a sharp axe in his hands and struck at the roots of the tree. At once, the birds and animals in the tree cried aloud. The grasshoppers, the sparrows and the squirrels came out of their holes and nests.

“Please, sir,” they begged the farmer. “Save this tree. It’s our only home!”

But the farmer only struck harder at the roots. “We’ll sing to you as you work,” said the sparrows. “That’ll make you happy,” said the squirrels. But the farmer did not listen to them.

He went on striking at the tree – harder and harder. He was in a hurry and wanted to finish off the chopping by the afternoon. As the farmer raised his axe one more time, he saw something in the hollow of the tree. It was a beehive. He looked closer. It was full of honey. He tasted the honey. “Ummmm! It tastes so sweet,” he said.

“So,” said the farmer, “the tree is not useless after all. If I take some honey now, the bees will make more. They won’t go away from their good home.”

“Listen!” he cried to the birds and insects. “I shall not cut down this tree. It’s your home. You can live in peace now.” And he threw away his axe.

“The farmer isn’t a kind man,” said the sparrows, the grasshoppers and the squirrels. “He wants the tree because there is honey in the beehive.”

But they cried out in joy. Their homes were safe.

Manu and the Money

One day Manu was going to his grandma's house. On the way he found a 500 rupee note. He picked it up and looked here and there, to know whose money it was. He didn't find anyone around.

So, he kept the money with him and went on. After sometime he felt thirsty. He didn't have water. He saw a grocer's shop nearby. He went to the shop and asked for water. The shopkeeper said, "I don't have water right now. But I have juice bottles. If you want, you can buy juice".

Manu took a juice bottle and paid for it. He drank the juice and started walking again. A little later, he found a woman on the road who was searching for something. He stopped there and asked the woman, “What are you searching for, aunty?” The woman replied, “I have lost my 500 rupee note. I need the money urgently. I must take medicine for my son who is in hospital”.

The boy then realized and said, “Oh! Aunty, please stop searching. I have your money. I found it a little behind on the path. I didn’t see anyone around. So I kept the money with me. Now take this and buy medicine”.

Manu continued, "But, aunty, I am so sorry. I bought a juice bottle worth rupees 20/- from your money as. I was very thirsty. Here's rupees 480/-. I am really sorry. I will return your twenty rupees after I go home aunty...! Please give me your address." The woman was happy at the boy's honesty.

The Sun on a Holiday

One fine Sunday, Mr. Sun thought he would take a holiday. He suddenly disappeared from the sky. Darkness covered the earth.

Sparrow : Why is it so dark? Where is the Sun? He is nowhere.

Squirrel : Something is wrong with the Sun. May be he is ill.

(Both rushed to their homes)

Plant : Where's the sun? I can't grow without his rays. I too should take a holiday.

Crow : (Looking out of its nest, whispered to its chicks)

Darlings, its dark outside. The Sun cannot be seen. I can't find grain for you. You will have to go hungry today.

Honey-bee : Without sunlight.I will not be able to find any flowers! I will also rest today.

Drop of Water : What? The Sun is not shining?. Without the Sun I cannot be turned into vapour. I cannot climb up into the sky. I shall miss my trip to the sky!

Men and Women: The Sun cannot take a holiday! What is going to happen now?

The Snow was very happy. It moved as it liked. It got colder and colder. The water in ponds, lakes and rivers froze.

Mr. Sun saw what everybody was doing while he was resting. He was shocked.

Mr. Sun : I am really sorry. I did not mean to harm anyone. I will give up my holiday and shine again.

The Snow and the cold got scared and went away. The honeybee started buzzing. The drop of water started dancing. The wind began to move and sing. The crow left its nest to find food. Squirrels and sparrows began to jump and play.

Men, women and children came out of their homes. They welcomed the Sun. The Sun was very happy. From that day on, the Sun shines forever.
