

Paragraph Writing Topics

Essays are common in elementary, middle, high school and college, and one may even need to write essays in the business world. An essay is defined as “a short piece of writing that expresses information as well as the writer’s opinion.” An essay is, generally, a piece of writing that gives the author’s own argument — but the definition is vague, overlapping with those of a paper, an article, a pamphlet, and a short story. Essays have traditionally been sub-classified as formal and informal.

There are seven steps to writing a successful essay:

- Pick a topic. ...
- Prepare an outline or diagram of your ideas. ...
- Write your thesis statement. ...
- Write the body. ...
- Write the introduction. ...
- Write the conclusion. ...

Writing

For some, writing an essay is as simple as sitting down at their computer and beginning to type, but a lot more planning goes into writing an essay successfully. If you have never written an essay before, or if you struggle with writing and want to improve your skills, it is a good idea to go through several steps in the essay writing process.

For example, to write an essay, you should generally:

- Decide what kind of essay to write.
- Brainstorm your topic.
- Do research.
- Develop a thesis.
- Outline your essay.
- Focus on the Coherence of idea.
- Edit your writing to check spelling and grammar.

Kinds of Essays

The first step to writing an essay is to decide what kind of essay to write. There are several main structures into which essays can be grouped:

- Narrative Essays: Tell a story or impart information about your subject in a straightforward, orderly manner.
- Descriptive Essays: Focus on the details of what is going on. For example, if you want to write a descriptive essay about your trip to the park, you would give great detail about what you experienced: how the grass felt beneath your feet, what the park benches looked like, and anything else the reader would .. need to feel as if he were there.

- Persuasive Essay: Convince the reader of some point of view.
- Comparative Essay: Compare two or more different things.
- Expository Essay: Explain to the reader how to do a given process. You could, for example, write an expository essay with step-by-step instructions on how to make a peanut butter sandwich.

1. My Pet Dog

We keep pets for pleasure. Pet dogs always want to protect their owners. Pets are very playful with their owners. They can sacrifice themselves for their owners. My pet dog is a pug. It is fawn in colour and has a – small built. We have named it Swigi. It has been with us since last 2 years. I still remember the day me and my sister went to the pet shop with my father to bring it home. I somehow wanted to pet a cat but my elder sister, Riya is almost crazy about dogs and was adamant that we get a dog as a pet.

Other members of my family also believed that keeping a dog as a pet was a better choice and so a cute little one month old pug came home with us that day and became a part of our family. Though everyone in the family takes care of Swigi, my sister is especially particular about its cleanliness, vaccinations and eating habits. We make Swigi bath twice a week. It is actually my favourite time of the week. We take it to the terrace and bathe him with a pipe. We make sure it gets its food on time and goes for stroll twice every day.

Swigi also accompanies us everywhere we go. Swigi is quite an active dog and loves playing with ball. It is super fun playing with it.

2. My Family

A person without family is not complete in this world. A family is a group of members which share bond of trust and compassion. Human beings are considered as the social animals living in group called as family. Family plays many important roles throughout the life. 15. My Dream

Dream is a strong desire to achieve something in life. I believe everybody has their own dreams and keeps moving towards our goals. My Dream is to become a successful scientist. The main area where I would like to focus my attention is the medical and pharmaceutical sector. As a scientist, I would conduct research to develop cheaper varieties of medicines and pharmaceutical products so that the poor people can afford them. I would like to find medicines for non-curable diseases and invent cost-effective devices using robotics for early detection of diseases like Cancer, Stroke and other possibilities for Organ transplantation and life-threatening disease.

I would also make low-cost medical equipment so that much money is not spent on importing them from other countries. I will study hard and do a lot of hard work to become a scientist and face those great challenges. In order to pursue my dream, I may face failure but I will not step-down. I wish to use my inquisitive nature to fulfill my dream. My parents always support me and think highly of my dreams. They get me encyclopedias and take me for science fairs and exhibitions. I will definitely become a Scientist one day and make my parents, teachers and nation proud.

16. Visit to a Circus

It was one of the most memorable days in my life when my father announced that the coming weekend we all will go and watch circus. I couldn't control my excitement and jumped up and down as I don't know how I managed to spend that Saturday night. I was not able to sleep properly. The day came. The show was scheduled for 4 pm. Myself, my sister, dad and mom took a 20 minutes' drive to Marine Drive where the great Majestic circus was running for the last one week.

We grabbed our tickets and took a front row. It was a huge tent arranged in a dome like circular shape. As expected, it was a full house. The show started with a spectacular introduction light and sound show by the dancers. The clowns then took the stage. Then came the gymnasts with their amazing show of flexibility and acrobats. It was breath taking when the gymnasts were performing the trapeze acts and tightrope walking.

I was thinking how much efforts and training these guys might have underwent to perform so precisely. A single error would have been disastrous even though the safety net was there in place. It was then the turn of cyclists. The balance and the control shown by them was truly unbelievable. This was followed by the motorcycle performance. The motorists performed inside a huge well like structure and mesmerized the crowd with some amazing and daring stunts. Finally, it was the turn for the animal show which I was anxiously waiting for.

Initially different parrots came on cycles and elephants played cricket. Lions and the black panthers behaved like pets, listening and obeying their masters. It was only at the end of the huge group show, where all artists took the stage I realized that three hours have past and the show is going to end. That day remains one of the best days in my life.

17. My Favourite Cartoon

My favorite Cartoon character is Doraemon. He is a cat robot from the 22nd Century. He has a pocket on his stomach and many gadgets in it like the "bamboo copter", anywhere door, fast/slow perfume, Gulliver's tunnel, small light and big light etc. His sister's name is Doremee. Doraemon lives with his best friend Nobita. Doremee lives in the 22nd Century with Nobita's grandson in the future world. Doraemon came through the time machine which is in Nobita's drawer. Nobita is a very lazy boy and he asks different gadgets to Doraemon for whatever he has to do.

Nobita doesn't study at all and so gets zero in all his tests. He always falls into some trouble, because he misuses Doraemon's gadgets, but Doraemon always save him. Nobita's friends always bully Nobita, but when Nobita cries and runs home, Doraemon always teaches them a lesson. This shows Doraemon's love for Nobita. I like Doraemon because he takes care of every one and hence helps every body. He shows us the way to success that if we are honest and hardworking, we will be able to overcome all our problems.
