

If I were the principal of my school

I love my school. During the working hour. I love it for its quietness. In the recess and at the end I love it for its cheerful noisiness. I wish I could pass my whole life here. Now can that be possible? Possible will it be, If I become the principal of my school. Only then I can remain here for a long time. Not only this I can shape it to my heart's content.

Nothing is perfect in the world. My school is not an ideal one. Certain things need improvement. There is for example, no proper arrangement for drinking water in my school. There is just one tap. Then, there is the library which is more of a collection of old fashioned books than a library proper for students. We cannot get the books we desire to read.

If I were the principal of my school, I would enlarge the library according to the needs of students and make it up to date. There should also be a large and quiet reading room for students. A cooler should replace the lonely tap.

I have often noticed with pain the boys do not have opportunities to put the recess period to full advantage. Some of them run home, while others eat whatever rotten stuff they get from the hawkers. Some simply talk of films. The recess period can be more properly used for recreation and betterment period can be more properly used for recreation and betterment of the boys. If I were the Principal of my school, the boys would be asked to have club activities during the recess. They would be encouraged to pursue their hobbies such as photography, wood work gardening and paper cutting.

Another new thing I should like to introduce is a giant wall magazine for the whole school. The students would then gather around it in recess and learn how to read and write for recreation. Around it I recess and learn how to read and write for recreation. The photo club would put up some really good photographs on the wall magazine.

Lastly, if I were the Principal of my school, I would try to maintain strict discipline. I would also try to show excellent results. Discipline and result go together, but discipline comes from within. So, I would introduce moral education in my school. Only then the boys of my school would be healthy, brilliant and disciplined.
