Kavita : Hello, is it Ketki ?

Ketki : Yes, Ketki. How are you? Did you receive my letter ?

Kavita : Yes, I received it yesterday. I am very glad to read about Navratri. Here, in West Bengal, we too have a festival like Navratri.

Ketki : How interesting ! What it is ?

Kavita : It is Durgapuja.

Ketki : Sounds familiar. Do you also perform garba during Durgapuja ?

Kavita : No, dear. Durgapuja is like Navratri because it is related with the Mother Goddess.

Ketki : O yes, Maa Durga. Well, I called you last night. But you were not at home.
Were you busy ?

Kavita : Yes. I had gone for shopping with my parents. We bought new dresses.
items for decoration and puja. We also purchased food items for the celebrations.

Ketki: So you wear new clothes on Durgapuja. Do you enjoy decorating for Durgapuja ?

Kavita : Yes, we enjoy decorating. And we enjoy food, too. You know Bengal is famous for sweets. We eat rashogolla, sondesh, pitha, kalakand and many more sweets.

Ketki : Yes, Bengalis have sweet tooth. Do you also have festoons ?

Kavita : Yes, we do have festoons. Our puja pandals are decorative and hg They are made of bamboo and cloth. They are temporary temple We put huge idol of Durga in the pandal. People stand in long queue to see the Durga idol.

Ketki: Well, this sounds like Ganesh Mahotsav.

Kavita : You are quite right. India is one in many ways. "Bibidhata me ekta'.

Ketki : How lovely! And do you immerse the Durga idol like the Ganesh idol ?

Kavita : Yes, we also immerse the Durga idol. During the immersion procession, we chant Durga Maa ki Jat and Aashchee bochoor abar hobe.
