I. Read the passage and answer the following questions.

As young children in the boarding house, there were many things that we were not allowed to do. We could not watch television after 8 pm. Very often our house master, Mr Harold, would say, "No, you may not!"

He felt that watching television was a sheer waste of time.

When it came to useful things, Mr Harold gave us his full support.

One day, I said, "Sir, we want to raise money for charity. Would you help us to put up a play?"

His prompt reply was, "Yes, of course I will!"

I remember that, together, we put up the play Charlie and the Chocolate factory and it was a great success.
