

The best way of serving my country

Love of one's country has been said to be above all other loves love of family, children, relatives and friends. It is, perhaps next only to love of God. That is why Scott says that hardly shall we find such a person as does not feel happy when he turns his footsteps for homeland from foreign countries. Sacrifice in the cause of the service of the motherland is a highly noble virtue. History is full of praise for those who lived or died for their country.

Who can forget the name of Robert Bruce of Scotland, Garibaldi of Italy, De Valera of Ireland? Maharna Pratap Shiva and Sub hash Bose of India? The names of those who stood to the service of their country in the hard times of her history will ever remain memorable.

No praise is too much for Florence Nightingale or the brave soldiers of light brigade or Russia's noble soldiers who faced Hitler's ruthless invasion or the brave sons of china who fought Japan's army of occupation continuously, for twenty years.

Apart from them those who work in religious social educational literacy or scientific fields are no less worthy of universal praise. Lord Christ, Buddha, Mohammed, Confucius, Luther and Lenin were men who changed the course of human history. India was burning into eh fire of social evils such as untouchability, orthodoxy and communalism when Mahatma Gandhi came on the scene.

His service to the nation and part played by him to remove these evils has become a bright page of history. Scientists like Jenner who found the cause and treatment of small pox, Ross who saved the world from malaria, and scientists like Jenner who found the cause and treatment of small pox, Ross who saved the world from malaria, and scientists who gave the world the gifts of printing press wireless telegraphy, railway train and electricity were true sons of their motherland.

Everybody lives for himself, but blessed are those who live for others. We should devote a part of our time to the service of the nation. The country needs selfless workers to make progress. India has now been free for nearly thirty years, but she has yet to solve so many problems. Mass illiteracy is rampant in our country.

Every school and college student should spend some of his time to remove adult illiteracy. Without education for all we cannot be thinking of people right. Our next problem is economic betterment. We at the end of the months a happy and he has shown us the right way. We can bring about great changes in our way of living for the better by means of Sharm dan. Buddha dam and Brume dam. We can do things in a non violent way for which blood has beans held in other countries.

There is much work to be done in the cities also. If there are happy schools in which children my study and play it well be real service to the future citizens of the world. Slum areas re to be removed and more than anything else bribery red tapes and nepotism should be removed from our daily life. But all these things will be accomplished only when everybody puts his shoulder to the wheel in a spirit of dedication.
